Dear Mr. and Mrs. Kyles, Dad, still doesn't know whether he's lost a daughter or gained a son. He's probably done both.

Ann, remember Pearson Cooper? I went with him two years ago. (steady) Then we broke up and then went steady again. She broke up last year and I went with a whole bunch of other boys. Then I started going steady with David Roberts, and Pearson decided he'd better take a look. She came out just about every night and I kept running off with him. She went "to the bushes" the first night he came out, but he just kissed me a few times. Talk about two-timing! I told David the next day. He didn't care, so I just kept doing it. I finally broke up with him. I'm going steady with Pearson for the third or fourth time.

Why don't you two come and see us when you can?

Write and tell us girls what embarrassed Mother when they were there last. She can't drag it out of them. We're dying to know.

Joe's about to die cause Richard might come home this week-end.

Remember when Grace was going steady with Charles Eddie last year? He broke a date with her a few days ago and she cursed him like a veteran cusser.

She didn't know that he knew that she and her friends let the air out of his tires during a dance. Gae had a date with him Monday, and Grace had one with him Tuesday.

I went with him the first of this last school year for a long time.

Pearson just drove up so by.

P. G. Come and see us pretty soon.

Love, your sister and sister-in-law,
Lida
