My Darling Little Suzie,

I hope you are reading well enough by now to read my letters. Are you? Will you write me a letter telling me what grades you made in school? Also, tell me how Nicky is and if you have a cat what is its name. No one has told me. What did the eye doctor say about your glasses? Do you still wear the same ones or did he change them? Does Anne wear her glasses? I am mighty glad you are all learning to sing. As soon as summer comes I want you all to start learning to play the piano, too. You girls can have a quintet when you grow a little older and all learn to sing and play the piano. I wish I could come to see you all at school. I will when I come home. Thank you for the lovely cigars, my darling.

All my love, your daddy.
